WHAT IS NTU?
NTU, National Taiwan University of the Arts (NTU), was founded in 1956, and is one of the most comprehensive art universities in Taiwan. NTU is a public institution dedicated to the education of students in the arts. NTU offers a wide range of undergraduate and graduate programs in the arts, including music, theater, dance, film, and visual arts. NTU is known for its strong academic programs and its commitment to supporting the arts in Taiwan.

WORLD‐FAMOUS ALUMNI
Since the school's inception, many well-known and accomplished artists have been trained at NTU, who have played active roles in creating an entirely new art form or a new movement in arts that could develop and flourish. NTU also has many distinguished alumni at home and abroad. Over the decades, the 耀族 (known as the Golden Lion winner) members and their students are just two of the most famous.

MOST COMPREHENSIVE ARTS EDUCATION
NTU is comprised of five colleges: the College of the Arts, the College of Design, the College of Communication, the College of Performing Arts, and the College of Humanities. They offer 16 bachelor degree programs, 26 master degree programs, 1 PhD master's program, and 3 PhD programs. Over 5,500 students are currently enrolled in NTU, making it one of the largest and most comprehensive art universities in Taiwan. NTU also provides a wide range of performance workshops and exhibitions throughout its campus, allowing students and faculty to broadly create their own works.

The College of Performing Arts offers three graduate programs: Art Management and Culture Policy, Art and Humanities, and International Master’s Program in Chinese Arts. It has three educational centers: the General Education Center, the Physical Education Center, and the Teacher Education Center. The College aims at being a platform for artistic creation and research, and provides training as well as interactive forums for HKU’s four professional art colleges. The program emphasizes both qualitative and quantitative research, which helps bridge the gap between the practice of art and art theory. With its well-equipped curriculum that integrates professional art education with multidisciplines, the college helps students cultivate global vision and humanity, while promoting international communication and cultural exchange.

The new MA Program of Chinese Arts for International Students. The process of globalization has brought about a new wave of art, artists, and institutions. In response to this new wave, the College of Humanities has created a new program to foster the next generation of students and scholars to understand Chinese and international contemporary art in Asia. The program will be given an independent platform which they can interact with local and international artists and scholars involved in the field of Chinese arts.
